POPPING CORN.

And there they sat a-popping corn, John Stiles and Susan Cutter: John Stiles as stout as any ox, And Susan fat as butter.

And there they sat and shelled the corn, And raked and stirred the fire; And talked of different kinds of ears, And hitched their chairs up nigher.

Then Susan she the popper shook, Then Jobn he shook the popper, Till both their faces grew as red As saucepans made of copper.

And then they shelled and popped and ste, All kinds of fun a-peking, And he haw-hawed at her remarks, And he laughed at his joking.

And still they popped, and still they ate, (John's mouth was like a hopper.) And stirred the file, and sprinkled salt,

And spook and shook the popper. The clock struck sine, the clock struck ten, And still the coin kept popping: It struck eleven and then struck twelve,

And still no signs of stopping. And John heate, and Sue she thought, The corn do hop and putter, Till John cried out, "The corn's a-fire! Why, Susan, what's the matter?' -

Said she, John Splee it's one o'clock ! You'll die of indige-tien ! I'm sick of all this popping corn, Wher don't you pop the question?"
